- See where this information can show up on an IEP

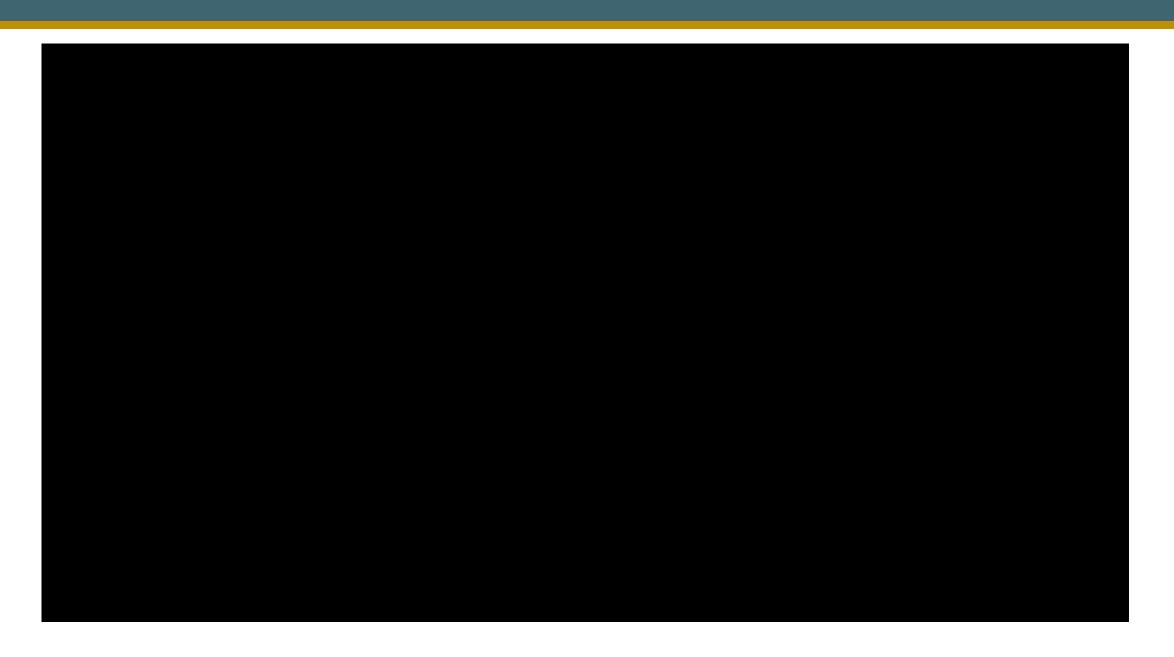

Tash Connection, 2017

"We all make decisions-big and small-every day. We may take for granted that we have the right to exercise such autonomy over our lives and that we often have a network of trusted friends and allies with whom we consult to make the important decisions that affect our lives. This is not always the case for people with disabilities."

National Guardianship Association/2015

"Supported decision-making should be considered before guardianship, and the supported decision-making process should be incorporated as a part of the guardianship if guardianship is necessary."

Video

What Does the Law Say About Guardianships...

Shall be utilized only as necessary to promote and protect the well-being of the individual...

And shall be designed to encourage the development of maximum self-reliance and autonomy in the individual.

MCLA, Chapter 6

Youth Experiences with Guardianship

 My first exposure to thinking about guardianship was when I applied to be a Youth Ambassador

- I had never spoken to my family about it before that
- It made me really start thinking about how I want to make decisions about my life as an adult
- I wanted to get involved because I want to make sure people get the information they need, to make decisions
- I applied to be a Youth Ambassador because I really enjoy advocating for people with disabilities like me

Types of Guardianships

Types of Guardianship

- Guardianship of the person
- Guardianship of the estate
- Conservatorship

Scope of Guardianship

- Plenary (full or total)
- Partial (limited)
- Combination of plenary and limited

petition filed & adjoined by an evaluation report* and a physical health statement

date of hearing set temporary guardianship granted / denied

notice of hearing distributed to alleged ward and other parties

appointment of attorney for alleged ward

hearing and court determination

FLOW OF GUARDIANSHIP PROCEDURES

petition dismissed

plenary (full) guardian appointed partial (limited) guardian appointed

*If not adjoined, court will order that an evaluation be conducted MCLA 330.1600 annual reports filed continued until appointment terminated

How Do You Feel When Your Rights Are In Jeopardy

- Deciding where to live
- Consenting to or, preventing any medical and health care or treatment
- Determining when and how to travel
- How you spend your money
- Making changes in educational or vocational programs
- Determining if and whom you can date
- What personal property you can own
- If and where, you worship

What is Supported Decision-Making anyway?

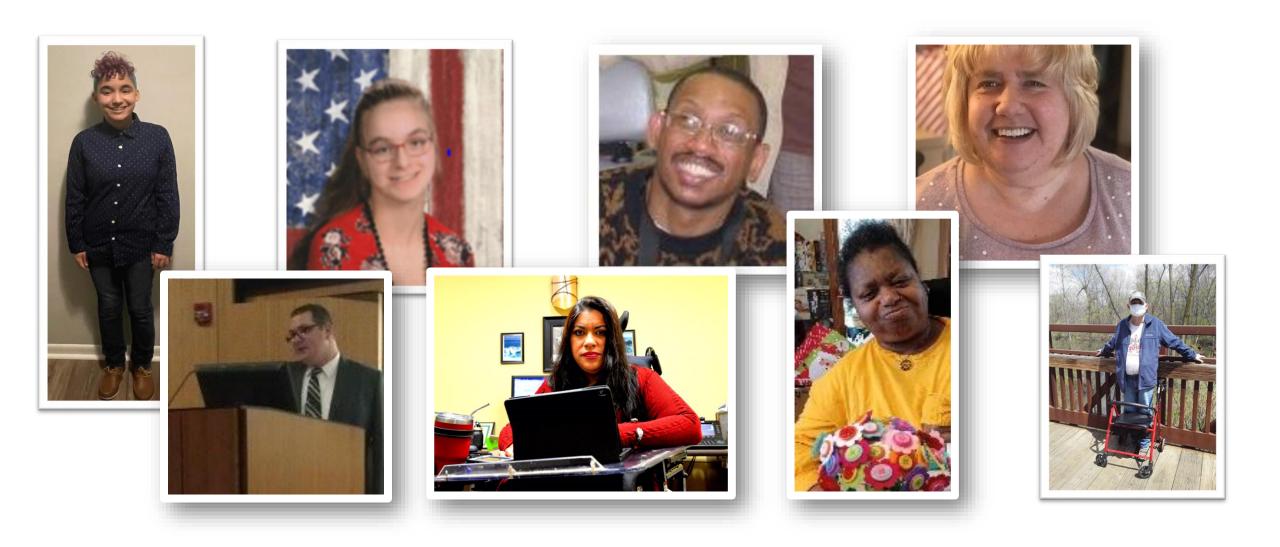

We all need supporters, helpers and consultants in our lives in order to make good decisions, whether we have a disability or not.

Supported Decision-Making

*Substituted decision-making = guardianship, which limits rights, choices and freedom

Supported decision-making = a process that enables people with disabilities to retain and exercise their rights and make and communicate choices in regard to personal and legal matters

Remember, Supported Decision Making Is Used by ALL People

Getting Started with Supported Decision-Making

- Step 1) Start the conversation
- Step 2) Identifying who is willing and able to assist
- Step 3) Plan and communicate
- Step 4) Set up agreement
- Step 5) Let everyone know

What are the main concerns people express?

Concerns involving:

- Education
- Safety
- Medical Decisions
- Finances
- Communication
- Sexuality and Relationships
- Legal

When the Main Concerns are Educational Decisions

- Like ALL people, it is likely that young people with disabilities will at some point want to emancipate themselves from their parents.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities are learning to weigh options and make choices that lead them to the adult life they want.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities need time to take over successively more responsibilities

Release of Information Forms

When signed by an adult with a disability, ROI forms authorize parents (and other allies) access to student records, medical information and legal proceedings. This helps to ensure quality and continuity of services and care and enhances the supported decisionmaking process.

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

§300.320(b) Transition services. Beginning not later than the first IEP to be in effect when the child turns 16, or younger if determined appropriate by the IEP Team, and updated annually, thereafter, the IEP must include—

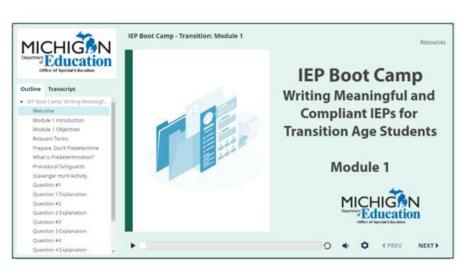

- Appropriate measurable postsecondary goals based upon age appropriate, transition assessments related to training, education, employment, and, where appropriate, independent living skills; and
- (2) The transition services (including courses of study) needed to assist the child in reaching those goals.

Meaningful Connections

Clear and meaningful connections must be established between what the student is learning in high school and what he or she will be doing after leaving high school.

- Postsecondary goals are outcomes. They are age-appropriate and measurable.
- Align annual goals with adult outcomes (postsecondary goals)
- Transition Services are activities. They assist the student in reaching the goal.

Office of Special Education Training

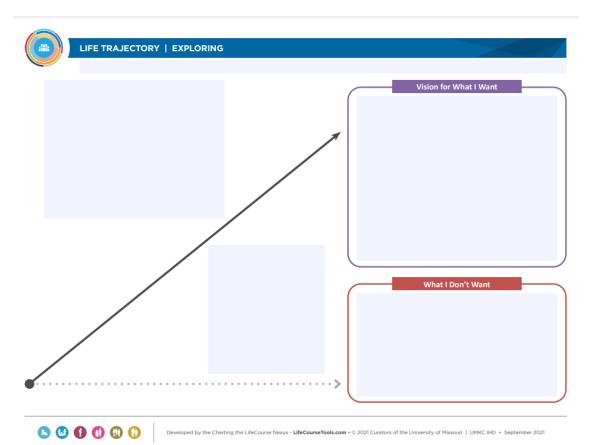

• The student is presumed to be competent to act on their own behalf

The district is presumed to have been, and is continuing to, educate the student to live a self-determined life

 School personnel should NOT try to persuade the parents to obtain legal guardianship over the student

Tool: Life Trajectory: Exploring

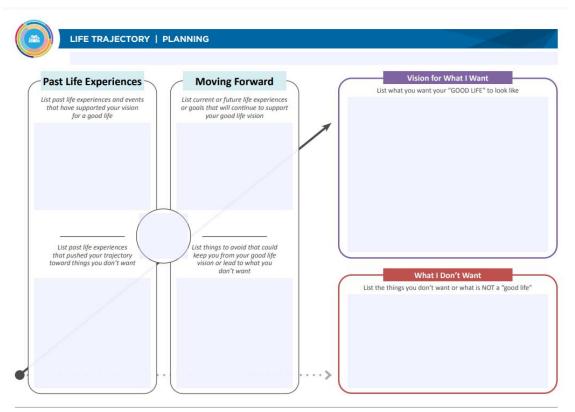

What is your vision for the life you want?

What do you not want?

Share with other members of your IEP team.

Think about if goals or activities take you to the life you want or the life you don't want.

Tool: Life Trajectory: Planning

The Trajectory Planning Tool highlights your past life experiences that are leading or moving you away from your vision and then provides space for current goals and activities to focus on or avoid moving forward.

When the Main Concern are Safety Decisions

- Like ALL people, it is likely that young people with disabilities will at some point take risks., there a certain dignity that comes with that.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities are learning to weigh options about levels of risk.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities need time to experience low risks, while family is still around to support and can help put in place future needs.

Assistive Technology (AT)

AT can make decision-making easier and help people live more interdependently in their communities.

A few examples:

- Medication management devices
- GPS technology
- Virtual assistants, like Alexa
- Remote monitoring and control of environment

When the Main Concern are Medical Decisions

- Like ALL people, it is likely that young people with disabilities will experience the need for medical care at some point in their lives.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities should learn to seek accurate information and weigh options
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities need time to take on successively more responsibilities and when needed, have support to make these decisions

Medical Power of Attorney

A medical power of attorney is a legal document in which you appoint an agent to make health care decisions on your behalf when you cannot make them for yourself.

Patient Advocates

A patient advocate is the name given to a health care power of attorney in Michigan. Other names include health care power of attorney, health care proxy and durable power of attorney for health care.

Advanced Directives

A Michigan advance directive is a document that lets a person select their end-of-life treatment options in the chance they cannot speak for themselves. This includes an agent that can be nominated to make health care decisions on the person's behalf in addition to treatment options and organ donation selections.

When the Main Concern are Financial Decisions

- Like ALL people, it is likely that young people with disabilities will at some point have income, either through public benefits or employment.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities should seek accurate information, weigh options and make decision about their money.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities need time to learn and when needed, have support to make these decisions

The Intersection of Employment and Public Benefits

When the Main Concern is Their Ability to Communicate

- Like ALL people, young people with disabilities will communicate, though that may be in ways different than their neurotypical peers.
- Like ALL young adults, youth with disabilities should learn to communicate with other
- Families need to assure that everyone involved in their loved one's life, understand their communication style.

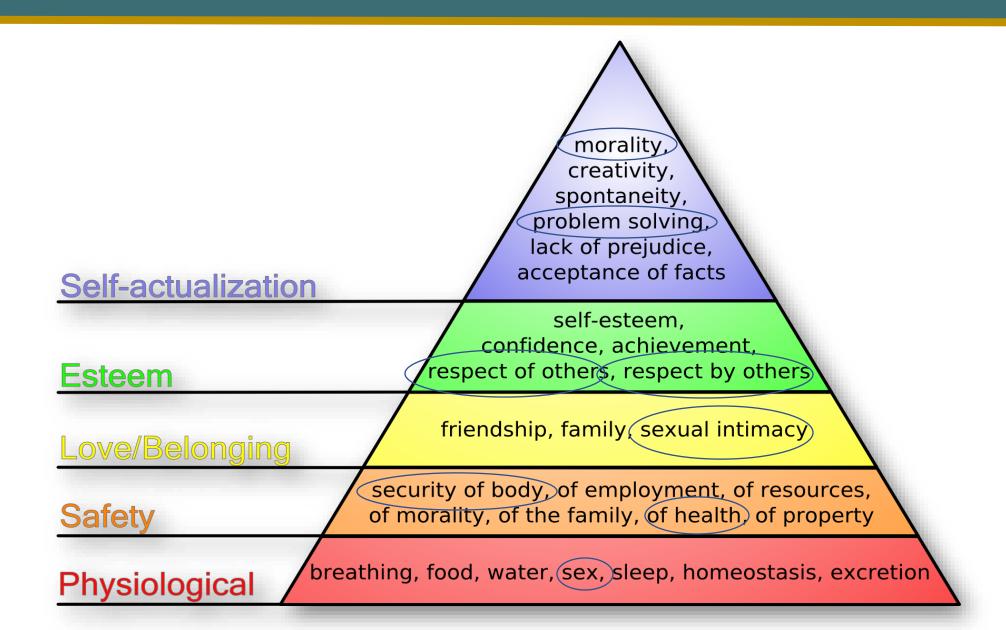

Types of Communication

There are many different ways we share information with one another. For example, you might use verbal communication when sharing a presentation with a group. You might use written communication when applying for a job or sending an email. Here's a more in-depth look at the four main categories of communication.

When the Main Concern is Relationship

- ALL people, are sexual human beings.
- It is even more important for youth with disabilities to learn about sexuality because they are abused at much higher rates.
- There are many resources available to support families in explaining complex ideas like consent to youth with disabilities.

We are all human beings, so we are all sexual beings

Alarming Statistics

People with intellectual disabilities are sexually assaulted at a rate more than seven times higher than people without disabilities

(Department of Justice as cited by NPR 2018)
